At the relocated downtown offices of international law firm, Greenberg Traurig, Gensler creates a progressive and evolving workplace with roots in the traditional. Custom leather elements include striking custom Muro panels in a warm hue of Hand Tipped leather. The panels feature an embossed and debossed logo and fluted details that are an interesting juxtaposition to the two-toned leather. In the adjacent elevator lobby, six custom leather-wrapped call lanterns elevate an otherwise mundane object to a design feature. And a Woven Rug in Volo leather grounds a seating grouping in a private office and creates natural texture underfoot.
